First White Man to Make the Journey Without Guides or Native Aid.

NOW ON HIS WAY HOME

Made Previous Trial with Leonidas Hubbard, Who Died of Staryation in the Wilds.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 22.-Letters to-day from Dillon Wallace, rador explorer and New York lawyer, contained the news that he had suc cessfully crossed Labrador, Mr. Val. lace is the first white man w. over made the journey without either guides or Indian assistants. With the lawyer was one companion named Eas-lawyer was one companion named Easton. The letters said that both were well and had plenty of provisions when they reached the Province of Ungava on Oct. 16.

In 1904 Mr. Wallace went with Leonidas Hubbard's unlucky expedition. Mr. Hubbard, whose purpose was also to cross Labrador, lost his life from starvation, and Mr. Wallace was found by the rescuing party after he had fallen exhausted in the snow.

Although the most perflous part of the New York lawyer's trip is completed, he still has before him a winter of travel by snowshoes before he reaches civilization.

He and Mr. Easton at the time when the letters were written were plan-

He and Mr. Easton at the time when the letters were written were planning to start westward through Ungawa for Georges River Post and thence to reach Fort Chimo, which is one of the most northerly points on the mainland of North America.

Here the two will wait until the coast waterways are frozen over. Then they intend to start southward toward Quebec on the frozen rivers, travelling with dog sleds and snowshoes. Mr. Wallace said that he expected to reach Quebec in April.

Realizes His Hope.

Edgar Briggs, of the Fleming F Revell Company, publishers at No. 158 Fifth avenue, received a letter to day from Dillon Wallace, use missive being brought by George M. Richard being brought by George M. Richards a Columbia student who went with Wallace as far as the 'Big Lake.' Michik amau, which is about four hundred miles west from the coast. The letter in part read: "Hurrah! We're here at last, camped on the shores of the Big Lake that Hubbard gave his life for a single glimpse of, that I nearly lost my life to see and never saw before. It is almost too good to believe that we are actually here. I have hardly taken in the full realization of the fact yet, but it is a fact, for we reached here at noon to-day.

The bearer, Mr. George M. Richards is one of my party, and he will tell you of our struggle over ridge after ridge, through swamps and marshe and timberland for 330 miles from the post at Northwest River, which we left Consumption Can Now Be Cured.

This is accomplished in only one way, and no one who is suffering from this disease should delay a moment in finding out how. To cure Consumption two things are necessary—the tubercular germs must be killed and the lungs must be filled with diff, and all sore epots healed.
